The book and movie “Eat, Pray, Love” have turned the spotlight on Balinese Shamans, the traditional healers who play an important part in Bali’s culture by treating physical and mental illness, removing spells and channeling information from the ancestors.
Our journey includes a visit to:
Tirta Empul (holy spring water) temple well-known for deep spiritual cleansing arranged and sanctified by King Indrajayasinghawarmadewa in the year 882.

Legend says that a powerful God, Mayadenawa used this water to make himself invincible. The Balinese believe that this water source can heal various forms of diseases.

Experience

The Melukat ceremony
"Melukat", or karmic cleansing ritual ceremony, is part of the Manusa Yadnya ceremony (holy sacrifice dedicated to human beings). Melukat aims to cleanse and purify the human body and soul in order to prevent havoc, bad luck and sickness. This havoc comes from acquired sins from your past life (sancita karmaphala) and actions from your present life (prarabda karmaphala).
